Overview

This session will provide caregivers with in-depth information about possible factors that affect intake for individuals with dementia. It will also help them identify concerns and intervene to promote safe and effective eating behaviors and programs throughout the progression of the disease. The program will cover a variety of strategies and techniques to help caregivers effectively notice and address concerns and progress, provide the 'just right' amount and type of assistance, create environments and set-ups that help with meals, and maximizes the dining experience for people with dementia throughout their life. This webinar is appropriate for skilled nursing, assisted living and home and community based providers. This webinar meets the following DIA requirements for dementia training: 58.54(6)a(7), 69.30(2)g and 69.30(2)j.

Learning Objectives

By the completion of the presentation, attendees will:

- Discuss aspects of dementia that affect nutrition and oral intake.
- Match common issues at each level of dementia to interventions that address nutritional or oral intake concerns at that point.
- Determine whether nutrition and eating support is being optimized at each level based on the person's abilities, needs, and disease status.

Who Should Attend

Administrators, Memory Care staff, Dietary Staff, Nursing Staff, Staff Educators, Activities and Social Workers. Skilled nursing, assisted living and home and community based providers.
